

Parker Kitchens' reputation spreads to the continent as first installation order is received from France

OOH, M. PARKER... CE QUI UNE BELLE CUISINE

When Mike Levett from regular customer Bishop and Levett wanted to install a traditionally designed kitchen in his secluded farmhouse retreat in Brittany he entrusted Parker Kitchens with the project, so our team were forced to spend some time there ... it's a tough life !

Pictured: Mark Ward (right) and customer Monsieur Mike Levett admiring Parker Kitchens' expert handiwork at Mike's traditional farmhouse in Brittany

Parker Kitchens Manager (sorry, Gestionnaire de la Cuisine) Mike visited our showroom (sorry, Salle d'Exposition) in Hailsham and was offered a wide selection of superbly styled kitchens from our Symphony range and he chose the above units because the design was sympathetic to the style and age of his property.

*Editor's note:
OK enough
of the translations !*

Mike provided us with detailed measurements of the space available and our expert (sorry, Spécialiste) designer Jennifer Hunt offered a number of styles and layouts and the kitchen he opted for went into production. With the time consuming crafting of worktop mitres and biscuit joints dealt with prior to departure, the Kitchen was shipped overnight by ferry from Portsmouth to Le Havre. A four hour journey by road then took us to the picturesque village of Gorrion where the ready-assembled units, complete with doors and drawers factory fitted, were installed.

Another truly expert installation by Parker Kitchens and yet another customer was more than 'continent' with our service !

PARKER BUILDING SUPPLIES