

Parkers motorsport sponsorship continues

WINNING FORMULA

Following on from the features we recently ran keeping track of Chris Hill's exploits in motor racing's Rookie Rods formula, here is his update on how his career in his Parkers sponsored car ...

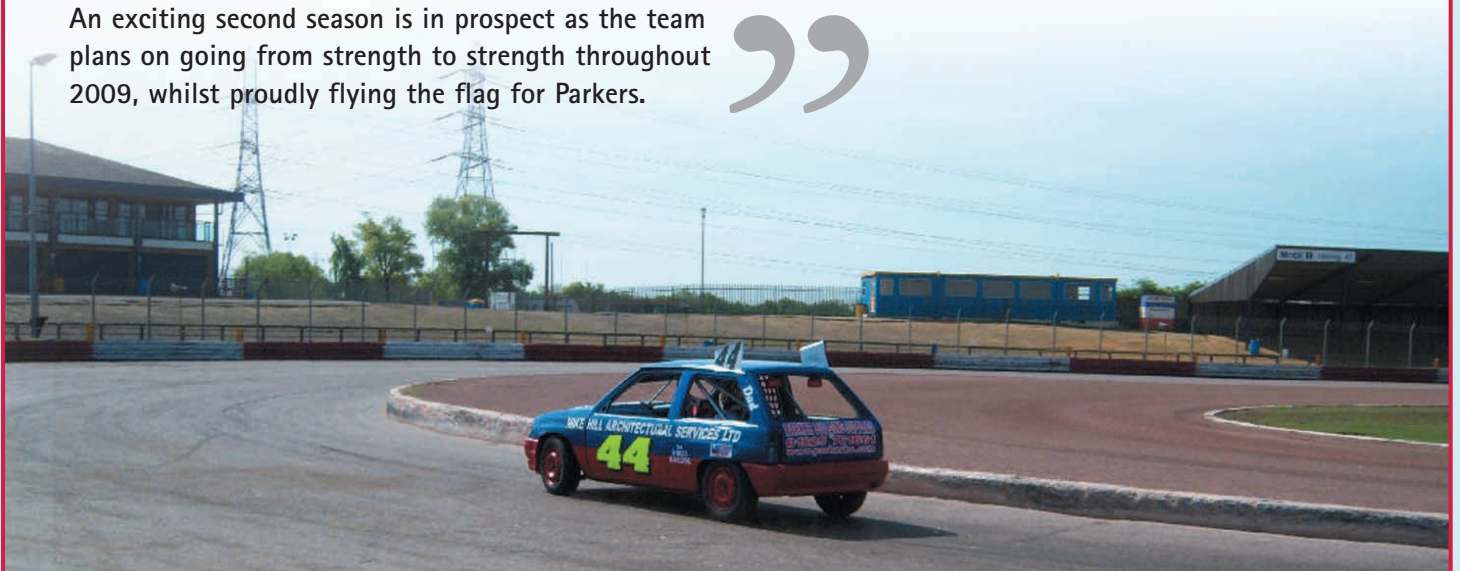

“ After a very challenging but enjoyable debut season in Rookie Rods last year we are delighted to be on the grid once again in 2009 with the backing of Parkers.

Following a brief slump in grid numbers at the end of 2008, the popularity of the formula this year has dramatically increased and now there are around 35 cars booked in for each meeting and there is a lot of stiff competition out there.

I predict a tough year for the No.44 team as we get to grips with our new car- a Vauxhall Nova which we have been busy preparing over the past few months. We are taking each meeting as it comes, simply hoping to improve the car with every race, capitalising on all the invaluable knowledge and experience we gained last year. This will hopefully enable us to achieve regular top 10 finishes and end a little higher up the points chart than last season.

It will be tougher this year now that all cars have to run to a set specification; so it really does come down to car setup and driving skill. Avoiding major damage is also top of the priority list but when you are out there racing in a big pack you really are in the lap of the Gods !

An exciting second season is in prospect as the team plans on going from strength to strength throughout 2009, whilst proudly flying the flag for Parkers.
