

Tamworth Trotters team undertake Charity Bike Ride

TOUR DE FARCE FORCE

Parkers' staff member Adrian Brown and his family and friends know every bump and turn of the famous cycle route from London to Brighton, but some of the team decided to sport a little extra 'padding'.

Adrian and his 'Tamworth Trotters', alongside 27,000 other successful riders, achieved an impressive personal challenge by completing the London to Brighton bike ride on Sunday 15th June. They cycled from the capital to the coast to raise funds for the British Heart Foundation in the largest charity cycle event of its kind in Europe. The 54-mile event raised over £3.9m in 2007, and this year we all hope the Ride will raise even more to help the BHF continue their remarkable lifesaving work.

It was certainly a fun day. James (far left below), created the 'Little Britain' costumes worn by student Ben and Adam (AKA Florence and Emily). They performed the roles just a little TOO seriously by flirting with all and sundry and collecting dubious proposals and kisses en route. But their efforts were very worthwhile - a big thanks to all those who sponsored Adrian to the tune of £335.80. Next year for a little more cash he's promised that'll he'll dress up too. We can hardly wait !
